Hi Paul,

Thanks for the info.

Get their car back??? It is no longer Lynn's car when he sold it 2 years ago, signed a bill of sale and signed over the California pink slip. I don't get why he thinks he has any right to the car? He sold it legally.

I am just going to sue the church and both of them. Thousands of people have already vued his threads online, naming my company as party to a theft!

I'm not putting up with this bull. You can tell the church to expect a lawsuit coming unless this matter is handled immediately. Harm has already been done.

Thanks

Mike
